Mrs. Bullard's

HYBRID WATSONIAS

The Hybrid Watsonia, originated in California.

For the production of these wonderful hybrid watsonias the world is indebted to the skill and the perseverance of the late Mrs. J. H. Bullard of Los Angeles, who spent nearly 20 years hybridizing and selecting these flowers, until they are now produced in an endless number of beautiful shades. Starting in with only two colors, orange scarlet and white, she has produced between 40 and 50 new shades, some of the choicest of which are offered in this catalogue.

The watsonia is closely related to the gladiolus but grows much taller, reaching a height of from 3 to 6 feet. While the flowers are smaller they are produced in far greater numbers, and are more delicate and graceful both in color and form.

After the main spike has blossomed, several smaller side spikes are produced, and it is quite common to have a total of 50 to 60 flowers on a single stem. Thus the flowers appear over a much longer period than gladiolus and make a grand display in the garden. The long stems and graceful airy arrangement of the flowers makes the watsonia particularly desirable as a cut flower.

Plant the bulbs from end of August to early part of November in any good garden soil, placing them 8 to 10 inches apart and about 5 inches deep in light soils or 4 inches deep in heavy soils. The plants will bloom the following spring.

NAMED VARIETIES

Ansonia. One of Mrs. Bullard's earliest productions. Rose pink with salmon and lilac tints, large star-shaped flowers with pointed petals; blossoms arranged loosely and gracefully on tall stems. Each, 20c; dozen, $2.00; hundred, $14.00.

Bessie Schubert. Tyrian pink with lighter shadings and darker on outside of tube. The flowers open well and are loosely and gracefully arranged on tall stems; late bloomer. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50; hundred, $18.00.

FANNY LYON

Apricot buff, an exquisite shade. Flowers large, borne gracefully on long stems five to six feet high. A profuse and early bloomer, making a gorgeous display in the garden. Each, 10c; dozen, $1.00; hundred, $7.00.

General Pershing. La France pink with salmon tints, a delicate and alluring shade. Immense flowers with broad rounded petals; medium height. Each, 50c; dozen, $5.00; hundred, $35.00.

Harriott. Strawberry pink, with delicate violet shadings. A unique and attractive color combination. Flowers with long, well-formed, somewhat pointed petals; medium height. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50; hundred, $18.00.

Harry Johnson. Salmon pink with orange and purple tints, a very striking color effect. The flowers are large, with broad, rounded, well-formed petals. An early bloomer of medium height. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50; hundred, $18.00.

Hazel. Coral pink with darker stripe through center of each petal; early and profuse bloomer; medium height. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50; hundred, $18.00.

Gladwin Iris

Iris foetidissima. "Gladwin Iris." Central and Southern Europe, England, Afghanistan and Algeria. A very interesting plant. The seed pods when ripe burst open and show the bright red seeds, which remain on the plant a long time and are often cut and dried for use in winter bouquets. Excellent for planting around pools. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50.

Moraea iridioides

A very beautiful plant from South Africa belonging to the Iris family. The plants attain a height of 2 to 3 feet and blossom almost continuously from early spring to late fall. The flowers are about 3 inches across, white with deep yellow blotches. Will thrive anywhere in a sunny location; fine for planting around pools. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50.

Veltheimia viridifolia

A very rare and beautiful plant from South Africa. The bulb throws up many long, broad, bright glossy green leaves, which are waved or undulated on the edge. From the center of these leaves appears a stout stem 1½ to 2 feet high, topped with a dense spike of 25 to 30 flowers of a delicate old rose shade. Requires a shady location. Each 50c.

Pink Bleeding Heart

A graceful plant growing about one foot high with finely cut, light green foliage which completely covers the ground. The flowers which are of a soft pink shade appear in Spring and rise on slender stems slightly above the fern-like foliage, presenting a very charming effect. Will grow in any shady place with a little moisture. Strong roots. Each, 25c; dozen, $2.50.
